Message from Emergency Measures Organization (EMO)

Get involved - We are looking for more members to join Clavet EMO – Our Next meeting will be held on February 27, 2019 – 7pm at the Village Office.

The Clavet Emergency Measures Organization (EMO) was formed to coordinate emergency situations/threats affecting the property, health, safety and welfare of the Village of Clavet.

EMO will coordinate a response and involve many necessary agencies to deal with a situation that is above and beyond the normal day-to-day operations carried out by First Response agencies. We need you

* If you are interested in this very necessary groups – please call the Office for more information.

After a Snow Fall -Village of Clavet Public Works Staff clear the snow from all streets and Village owned parking lots. If the snow fall is heavy, snow piles are made and need to be removed at a later date. Seniors and/or citizens with disabilities - Must register their name with the Village Office, so your driveways can be ploughed. Alleys are cleaned last.

NO Parking in Alleys

The office would like to remind everyone Parking in Alleys is Not allowed.

You are blocking person's access to their yard or Emergency Vehicle movement freely up the Alley. Persons have been using the alley as a personal parking spot – blocking public alleyways.

This is a very big safety hazard – Everyone please park on your property or in front of your home.

Community Events and General information:

- Outdoor Rink Now open for public skating – by the Arena
- Arena - Check out their website for skating times + more information. <http://www.clavetarena.com>
- Clavet Figure Skating Club: contact info <http://www.clavetfigureclub.com>
- Snow Hill by the Ball Diamonds/Rink – is ready - Use at your own risk

It is with a heavy heart that we announce the passing of Deputy Mayor and Councillor Cor Lobbes. Cor passed away on January 30, 2019. Cor was a long time Village resident and gave selflessly to our community which he loved. He served on Council for many years and was instrumental in the inception and ongoing organization of our Emergency Measures Organization as well as our Senior's Day. Cor was recently named our Citizen of the Year for 2018 at our Volunteer Supper on January 26th. Cor was well respected and loved by many and will be dearly missed. Our condolences go out to Cor's family. There are no funeral arrangements to announce at this time, but once we hear from the family, we will pass the details on at that time.

Citizen and Volunteer of the Year 2018

The Volunteer Appreciation Night was held on January 26, 2019, Thank you to all Volunteers who put in countless hours to ensure that we are providing safe and fun activities to our Village residence's and neighboring communities.

Council and staff wish to congratulate the following people Citizen and Volunteer of the Year Awards:

NOTICE

THE LIQUOR STORE IN CLAVET
WILL BE CLOSING TODAY
JANUARY 22, 2019

Unfortunately due to the low sales and the recent break-in and robbery we have to close sooner than expected.

We would like to Thank those that supported us and are truly sorry for any inconvenience.

We are hoping that Sask Liquor will come around soon and either issue a new permit or let us move the existing one to our new location.

FUNCTIONS

We will be maintaining our permit and will still be able to supply alcohol for functions.

Proposal to Tender for Treasurer / Book Keeper

The Clavet Arena Board is currently accepting proposals for a new Treasurer / Book Keeper position.

Under the direct supervision of the Clavet Community Arena Board, the Treasurer / Book Keeper will provide accounting services that will involve a wide range of areas including:

- Invoicing/Receivables
- Payroll/Salary payments
- PST/GST remittance
- Bingo account coordination
- Kitchen concession account coordination
- Providing monthly reports to the Arena Board
- Preparing accounts for Annual audit/auditor
- Use of Quickbooks will be a requirement
- Work period is steady during the Arena season from September 1 until March 31 and sporadic thru the offseason

The above is intended as a guideline only – a more comprehensive list of duties can be provided to those who are interested.

Proposals are to include at a minimum:

- Related experience and background history
- Remuneration expectations

The Board will review all submissions and create a shortlist for interviews. However, only those to be interviewed will be contacted.

Proposals will be received until Feb 22, 2019 @ 4:00pm.

Proposals and/or questions are to be submitted via email to clavetarena@sasktel.net.

The Arena Board would like to thank Bev Fedoruk for being the Treasurer / Book Keeper these past number of years. She has provided us with excellent service and was always willing to assist whenever and wherever we needed her help. The work she's completed is very much appreciated.

Girl Guides is an opportunity where girls are empowered to take the lead, jump into awesome activities, and explore what matters to them. They can "lead the way, seek new challenges, find their voice, discover how they can make a difference in their world all while making friends – and having a ton of fun in a safe, supportive, inclusive space".

Clavet Brownies and Girl Guides meetings will occur Tuesdays, 6:30-8pm at the Clavet hall, possibly with other events or camps throughout the year. The first meeting will be November 27th and will be for planning and questions as we get started. Girls and parents are welcome to come to that meeting and learn about Brownies and Guides without being signed up. There is currently a maximum of 15 girls that can register based on safety to leader ratios. If we have increased interest, then more can be accommodated if additional women volunteer as leaders. To register a girl, go to www.girlguides.ca and search for the Clavet Group.

Fees are $135 for the year, plus a shirt and sash purchase, with $1-2 weekly dues per week. However, there are options for GGC to cover the registration and uniform fees for girls so that money isn't a barrier to their participation. The Clavet Guiding Leader has paper forms for financial assistance as does the Girl guides office in Saskatoon.

If there are any questions, email Erin Linn (Clavet Guiding Unit leader) at off_fishing@hotmail.com

Thanks, Erin Linn

2019 spring football registration is now open. Season starts beginning of May and wraps up the weekend before school is out. If interested please go to saskatoonminorfootball.com to register. Here are the team codes for Clavet age groups:

Flag Football

Colts Grade 1-2: t9s1

Stamps Grade 3-4: w4k3

Hilltops Grade 5-6 (if enough interest a team will be formed): i9f0

Cost $120.00

Includes a home and away t-shirt

Generally there is one practice a week (determined by coach) and all games are held on Saturdays.

Tackle Football

Grades 5-6 and 7-8 can register for six a side tackle, but a team code cannot be created. Just use the drop downs under nearest school/community and put Clavet for both elementary and high school. Tackle requires a little more commitment as there is a lot more to learn. There will be two practices a week and all games are on Thursdays nights.

Cost $395.00

Includes all equipment except girdle, cleats and mouthguard.

Clavet Minor Football will be discussing possible fundraising to help offset the increase in fees, so that it can be affordable for all families. If parents/students are interested in coaching please call Chad @ (306)281-5225. If there are any other questions or clarifications needed, please don't hesitate to call.

Let's break our 2018 spring football registration record and keep showing Saskatchewan that Clavet is a football hotspot!!!

Thanks Chad

Effective January 1, 2019, the National Energy Code for Buildings 2017 (NECB 2017) and Section 9.36 of the National Building Code 2015 are now being enforced in the province of Saskatchewan. The new energy requirements will apply to building permit applications received on or after January 1, 2019.

Compliance is now required for all new buildings (residential and commercial) and additions.
The requirements do not apply to accessory buildings such as detached garages / storage sheds.

I've attached a notice which will need to be provided to all building permit applicants when applying for a building permit.

As a result of these requirements, hand drawn drawings will no longer be acceptable.
Drawings will need to be prepared by a draftsman, architectural technician or other professional.

Thank you.

Energy Code Requirements for Buildings

Effective January 1, 2019, the National Energy Code for Buildings 2017 (NECB 2017) and Section 9.36 of the National Building Code 2015 come into effect in the province of Saskatchewan. The new energy requirements will apply to building permit applications received on or after January 1, 2019.

As per Article 9.36.1.3 of NBC 2015, the code applies to the design and construction of all buildings and additions including:

- Section 9.36 of the NBC 2015 applies to:
 - Part 9 buildings of Group C occupancy
 - Part 9 buildings of Group C, D, E, or F3 occupancies where the combined floor area of non-residential occupancies does not exceed 300 m²
 - Note: Section 9.36 does NOT apply to all Part 9 buildings. Therefore Part 9 buildings that do not fall within the scope of Section 9.36 are required to adhere to the NECB
 - Section 9.36 will be applied to new buildings and additions. Consideration will continue to be made regarding the application to alterations and renovations.
- NECB 2017 applies to:
 - Part 3 buildings
 - Part 9 buildings that are beyond the scope of Section 9.36
 - Any building to which Section 9.36 applies, but the owner/applicant chooses to conform to the NECB
 - The NECB specifically applies to new buildings and additions

The energy codes provide various compliance pathways including:

- Prescriptive
 - Prescriptive provides a set of minimum build requirements which can be used to obtain direct compliance. Plans must be drafted and include standardized notes.
- Prescriptive with Trade-Off
 - Trade-off applies to construction options to above ground building envelope components and assemblies. Plans that incorporate a simple trade-off option must show applicable calculations.
- Performance (Energy Modeling)
 - Performance requires that the structure in question has all aspects calculated to meet a minimum energy load. This design must be completed by an engineer or architect.

Definitions:

Competent person - is defined as a person who is familiar and fluent with building design under Section 9.36 of the NBC and acceptable to the Authority Having Jurisdiction.

NECB: A design professional (an engineer or architect licensed to practice in Saskatchewan) will be required to complete the design, review and inspections for conformance to NECB

Addition - means any conditioned space that is added to an existing building that increases the building footprint and / or the above grade floor area.

Energy Efficiency includes requirements affecting building envelope, heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC), and service water heating.

These are intended to address:

- Air leakage
- Uncontrolled thermal transfer
- Unnecessary energy demand or consumption for heating and cooling, service water heating, and electrical equipment and devices
- Inefficiency of equipment and systems
- Unnecessary rejection of reusable waste energy

There are three possible paths to achieve the energy efficiency requirements:

Prescriptive Path

The prescriptive path offers distinct actions to directly move a building project toward an end goal of higher efficiency. Prescriptive path includes minimum R-values for insulation of wall and roof assemblies, acceptable infiltration rates, and efficiency requirements for mechanical systems such as water heaters and HVAC equipment. This path is considered easy to follow because it clearly lays out what is acceptable and requires little, if any, analysis on the part of the project designer.

Depending on the complexity of the project you are building, if you are incorporating a tall wall or a feature window, the calculations must be provided with Code references of how you will meet the minimum requirements from above.

Trade-Off Path

If you need some flexibility in your design, a trade-off path applies to above ground building envelope assemblies and components within a single building. This path has some limitations such as:

- Cannot trade-off airtightness measures, doors, and access hatches;
- Walls and attic roofs cannot be reduced below 55% of required RSI-value;
- Other opaque assemblies cannot be reduced below 60% of required RSI-values;
- Cannot be applied to heated assemblies (i.e. embedded heating cables);
- Cannot be applied to components and assemblies already exempted (i.e. site-built windows, glass block and storm doors).

Performance Path

The performance path offers the designer or builder the most flexibility for demonstrating compliance. It is often the only alternative when the design is non-compliant due to innovative construction methods or materials, and large amount of fenestration. This path you must simply demonstrate that the proposed design will not consume more energy than an equivalent building built to a prescriptive requirement. This compliance path requires an hourly building energy simulation specialized software. This will require a professional stamped design from an engineer or architect.

The National Energy Code of Canada for Buildings

This sets out technical requirements for the energy efficient design and construction of new buildings. This path requires a professional stamped design from an engineer or architect inclusive of all disciplines. Plans submitted under the NECB must specify compliance with the NECB and that the project has been designed specific to our Zone.
